WSU/4-H Portable/ Low Ropes Challenge Facilitator Training

This training is comprehensive and experiential and certifies leaders for group facilitation in Challenge-based activities. Participants learn skills in goal setting, cooperative risk taking, clear communication, problem solving and much more. Challenge helps groups and individuals achieve transformational goals in safe settings.

Following the training, you will be able to apply your skills with youth groups as a 4-H Challenge Facilitator.

As a 4-H Ropes Challenge Facilitator, you will be able to:
- Take groups on the BSD Low Ropes Course
- Check out Portable Challenge equipment
- Access our Challenge Resource Library
- Obtain WSU Challenge Leader liability coverage
- Work with other 4-H Challenge development programs statewide

Programs of WSU do not discriminate on the basis of race, ethnicity, color, creed, religion, national origin, gender, sexual orientation, age, marital status, the presence of any sensory, mental or physical disability, use of a trained guide dog or service animal by a disabled person, specially disabled veteran, veteran of the Vietnam era, recently separated veteran, and other protected veteran.

Creating Positive Learning Communities

It has been said that there is no learning without challenge and emotion, but how many of the challenging environments we are confronted with day to day are positive emotional experiences? Transformational learning can only take place in an environment where individuals feel they are valued and have a voice. Faced with the stresses of institutionalization, or the force of poor internalized scripting, do we regularly create environments that ensure caring, equality and insight for ourselves and others?

Communication, choice, decision-making, leadership, teamwork and positive risk identification are key elements of experiential exploration as groups work toward achieving their group and individual goals in a Challenge environment. Insights and learning from the course experience can be applied to the school, home, and work environments.

Challenge by Choice

We believe that learning and growth are best achieved through the willing participation of the learner. Although we encourage participants to challenge themselves, all of the activities presented to participants are “challenge by choice.”
A Little History:
The Bellingham 4-H Challenge Ropes Program

The Whatcom County Ropes/Challenge Course was created over fifteen years ago to strengthen life skills identified as crucial to building and sustaining healthy youth, families and communities.

The Bellingham 4-H Challenge program has been a collaborative effort between Bellingham School District and WSU Whatcom County Extension since 1990. Offerings have expanded to include not only the ropes course but also portable challenges, tailored to fit the needs and spaces of groups and organizations.
