

Tool Library

Need: Save Energy

Goal: To encourage people to save energy, it is important that they can see how much energy various appliances use. A Kill-A-Watt meter is a great way for people to track this in their home. But it would be best for people to share the resource; everybody does not need their own Kill-A-Watt meter.

Method: Approach Whatcom County Library regarding a possible "tool library" that they could manage. The Kill-A-Watts would be a good item that could be loaned to the community to track their energy use, and the library has the means to track and monitor.

Good directions need to be developed so people can use the meter most effectively.

Tom Anderson