Spring 2015
Community Compost & Recycling Training

for gardeners, educators & community members

Hands-on course will focus on the following topics:

- Science of decomposition
- Small and large scale composting methods
- Building compost systems
- Building soil
- Community outreach
- Plastics recycling
- Hazardous waste disposal

Course runs April 22 to May 20
Class meets Wednesday evenings plus Saturday field trips

Includes development of community education projects, compost system construction and visits to public school classrooms

To become a Certified Master Composter & Recycler, applicants must complete 30 hours of training and 30 hours of volunteer work

$100 tuition covers supplies and field trips
$65 for Master Gardener class of 2015

Space is limited. Sign up now!

Contact Amberose Kelley
a.kelley@wsu.edu
(360) 676-6736 x 7

www.whatcom.wsu.edu
WSU Whatcom County Extension Community Horticulture Program
Reaching Adults, Youth and Community with Education, Engagement & Service